FOREWORD

This year we of the GAZETTE Staff feel that we have selected a universal theme, "Quo Vadis?" or "Whither Goest Thou?" We realize that each Senior either has planned or is wondering what he will do after graduation. With so many fields to choose from there is considerable confusion when a high school student is trying to select the field that he is best suited for and in which he is most likely to succeed. There is the constant doubt and fear that when he goes out in life there will not be a place for him. He is more or less curious as to where and what he will be doing in, perhaps, twenty years. Every high school student therefore must have in his mind, as graduation rolls around, our theme, "Quo Vadis?" So the theme of itself has caught the spirit of graduation to hold it forever for you on the pages that follow.

As in previous years the Lock Haven High School has just reason to be proud of her debating teams. For the second consecutive year a debating team has succeeded in bringing back a cup, which means that again Lock Haven High School is champion of Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey district in debating.

It was the duty of this year's team to prepare a debate on a very wide and difficult subject. That subject was "Resolved: That the United States Should Establish an Alliance With Great Britain."

The club began its activities early in November and in the months which followed both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity engaged in a number of dual debates. In these debates the four teams debated teams from State College, Huntingdon, Lewistown, Tyrone, Watsontown, Dalmatia, Northumberland, Selinsgrove, and Tamaqua. These teams also participated in several practice tournaments, one at Palmerton, where because of illness and a shift in the squad they failed to place. But in the tournament held a week later at the local State Teachers College the varsity team won first place and the Junior Varsity lost in the semi-finals. Then on March the sixteenth and seventeenth the Senior Varsity team debated at the University of Newark, Newark, New Jersey, in the Eastern Regional National Forensic League Tournament and as we know they again took first place honors.

Even as this Gazette goes to press plans are being formulated to send the Varsity team to Beverly Hills, California, in June to participate in the National Tournament.

The Social Relations Committee is under the supervision of Mr. Hoch, our principal. The purpose of this club is to introduce the sophomores to their new surroundings at the beginning of school. It is also the purpose of this organization to try to get the students of the high school into better relations among themselves and with the faculty. In order to accomplish this aim this organization carried on the tradition of preceding clubs and sponsored, at the beginning of school, the annual "Get Together Dance." This club also assisted in arranging the student sections that were to follow the band in the parades preceding the football games, and in connection with this same work they sponsored a sale of balloons. This was done in order to defray some of the expenses of the new football field that had just been completed.

During the term the members of this club performed many helpful tasks, including the sponsorship of the annual hospital and egg donation, the giving of baskets of food to the needy at Thanksgiving time, and the holding of an underprivileged Children's Party at Christmas time. This same organization also brought in outside speakers when they had their annual Bible Study Contest. The girls also enjoyed many basketball games with other schools. Indeed the Tri-Hi-Y has been one of the most outstanding organizations of the year.

This group is really not a club but a class. Over a period of years the importance of the dramatics club was seen till now the school has seen fit to provide for a regular class. This class trains its members to act, think on their feet, speak clearly and many other things that are too numerous to mention at this time.

In November, for the benefit of the Milk Fund, this organization presented "New Fires," by Charles Burdette. Then later, on February the seventeenth, they presented "Minick," which was written by George Kaufman and Edna Ferber.

Under the direction of Lawrence L. Dick this has been another successful season for the Choral and Glee Club. They have taken part in many activities both in and out of school.

Such a club affords the high school student the opportunity to find out for himself whether he might like to take up music as a profession. With their training, service and social activity, these two clubs are a most necessary part of our high school.

Under the supervision of Miss Blair the French Club has again completed another successful year. This group of French students are very enthusiastic about the French language and France itself. The purpose of this club is not only to create a keener interest in the French language but to provide an opportunity for each member to practice and improve their speaking ability.

Not only do the members of this club practice their speech, but they study France and the French people at the same time. If no further benefit than these were derived this club would be well worth while for a knowledge of the land and the people that are playing such a large part in the world today is of much value to anyone and everyone.

This year marks the thirteenth successful year of the Home Economics Club in this High School. The club, under the supervision of Miss Hendricks and Miss Littlehales, is an organization for those who have at least one class in some phase of Home Economics. The purpose of the club is to better acquaint the girls with the essentials of home making.

Regular club meetings are held twice a month on Thursdays during activity period. One of the important social events of this year is a Mother-Daughter party held in honor of the girls' mothers.

The Sketch Club lays a helpful foundation for all fields of fine arts and most of all this club lays the foundation for any student who is planning to take up art as their life's work or as their hobby. This is the thirteenth year of this club under the direction of Miss Leitzell, the art director. Throughout this year and other years this club has practiced with pastels, charcoal, sketching, water-coloring, and oil painting which has just been introduced into their work this year. Outdoor sketching is another activity that the members find very interesting and enjoyable. Thus we see that valuable training and experience are received in this most entertaining organization.

The Rifle Club is an organization which tests the nerve and skill of each member in it. It provides a clean and wholesome sport which all the boys enjoy because of their desire to match their skill with that of some one else. This club also prepares these boys for a favorite and healthful sport, hunting. They learn the fundamentals of using guns as well as the safety involved around a gun. As a result of the knowledge and practice in marksmanship which these boys receive from their instructor, Mr. Davies, their pleasures and satisfaction in hunting are doubled when game season opens. This club may also be the basis by which several of the boys will determine their future occupations for if they have exceptional skill in marksmanship they may choose to be a police officer, a soldier, or any one of numerous jobs along that line.

This organization, The Future Farmers of America, is primarily composed of farm boys from near the school. This group has been organized to promote future rural leadership and responsibility.

Two local degrees are granted if certain standards are achieved and both state and national degrees are granted for exceptional farm and scholastic records.

This group enjoyed very much an annual conference at Harrisburg which was given in connection with the Pennsylvania State Farm Show. Under the guidance of Mr. Hays and Mr. Davies, their supervisors, they are also planning to compete with other chapters of the F. F. A. at the contests to be held at State College in June.

To the band goes the distinction of being the one extra-curricular activity that functions longer than ten or twelve weeks of the school year. In fact, the demand for the band compels it to be in constant service to the school and public for the full twelve months. During the school term, it is occupied with chapel concerts, football and basketball games and school parades. In the vacation period, it continues for it is called upon for festival appearances and civic affairs.

It is no more than right to take this opportunity to congratulate another organization which is closely related to the band. It is the Band Mothers Association which gives financial as well as moral support to this group.

Taking a very active part in musical festivals throughout the state, such as the District Festival at Clearfield and the All-State Band at Lancaster, our school had been chosen as host for the Central District Band in March, 1940.

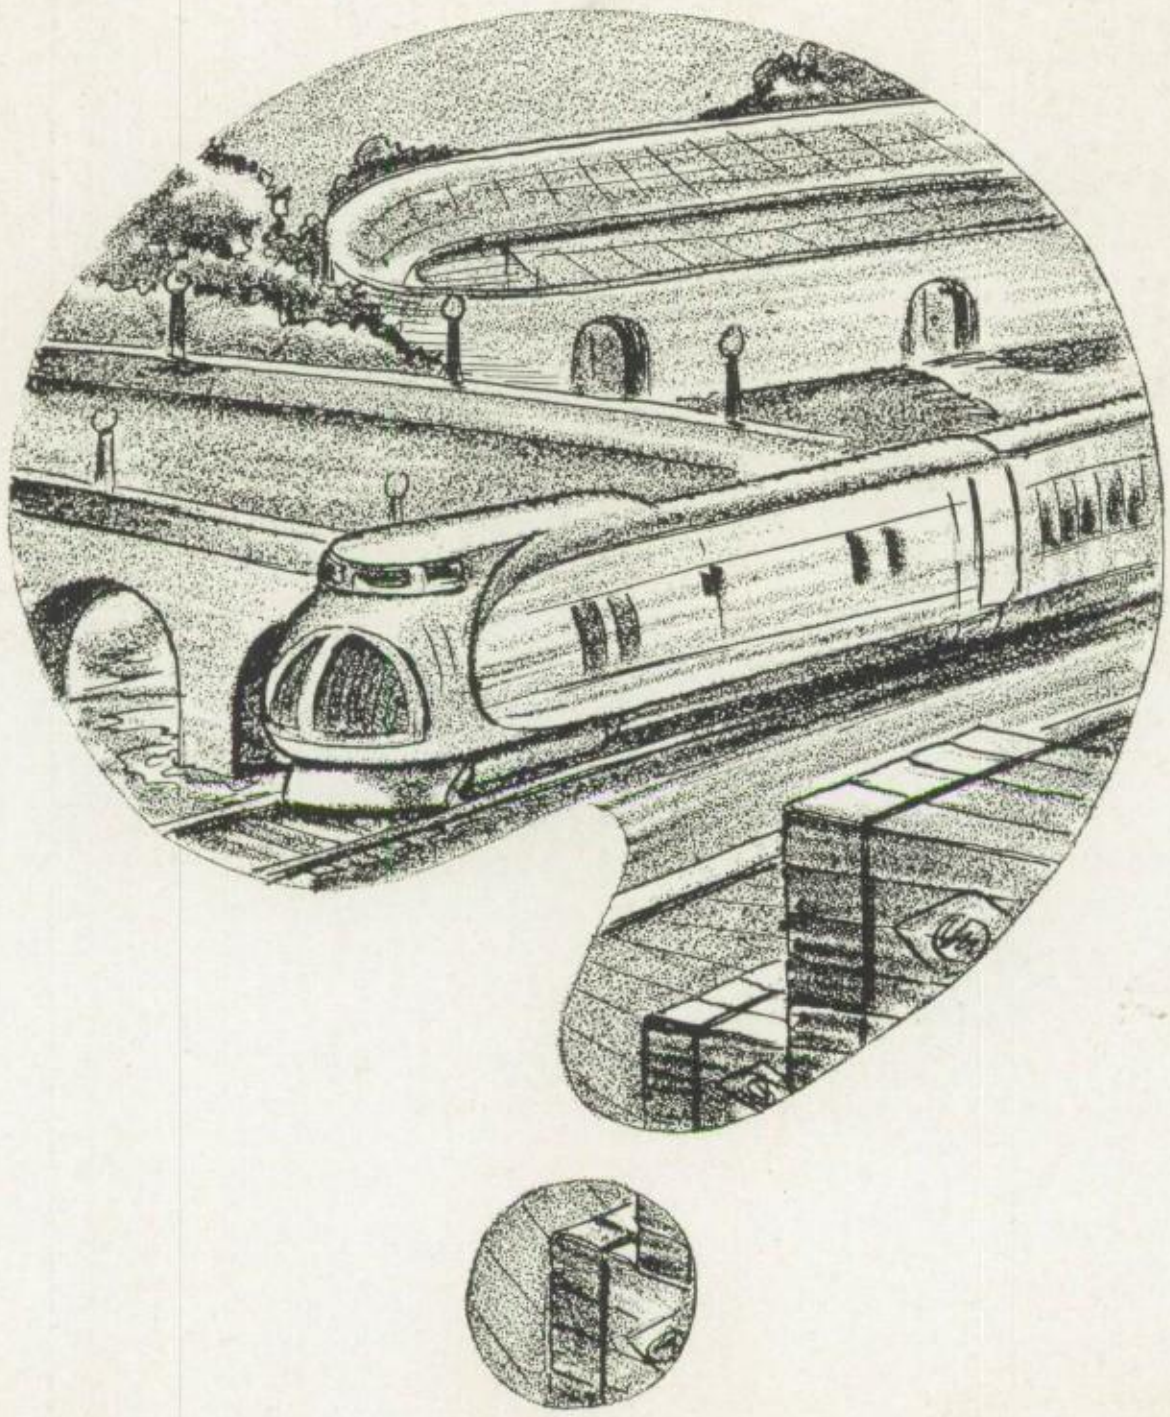
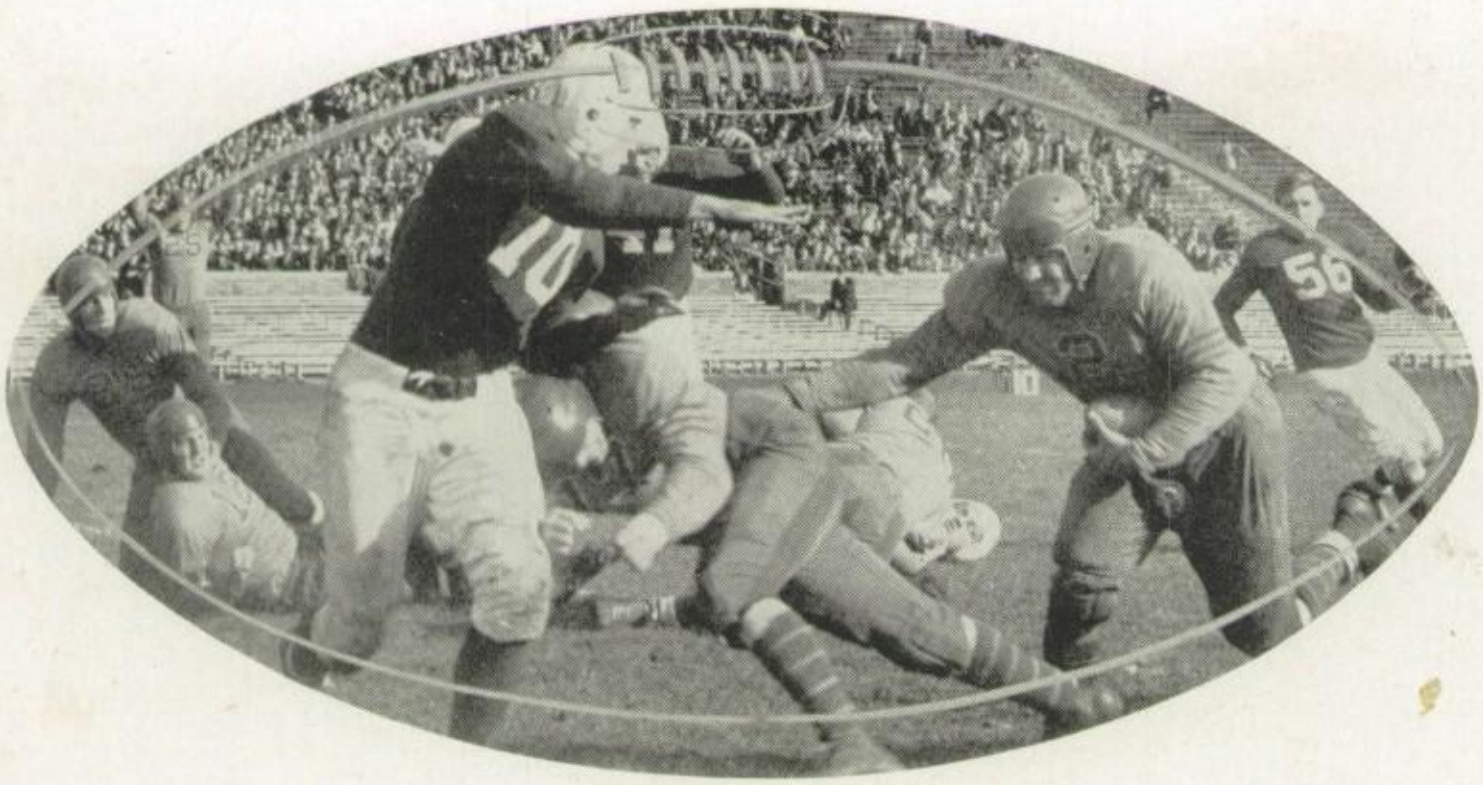
Entering upon its second year, the symphony orchestra is active in the school curriculum, entertaining at all school plays and at the annual commencement exercises.

The main body of the orchestra is formed by a group of band members who have had a few years experience with such work and the remaining parts being carried by the younger and much larger group of instrumentalists. This latter element will eventually bring this organization to such strength that the city as well as the school will be proud of them.



ATHLETICS



Football

The football team, which represented our high school this past season, was one of the most courageous that has ever played on Hanson field. Although handicapped by injuries and lack of weight, they continued fighting and won the admiration and praise of their opponents and the townspeople. The boys on this year's team fought when the going was the hardest and will long be remembered as a team that set a worthy example of stamina and fight.

WALTER C. LEVINE.

As it has been said before, Lock Haven High School has had, perhaps, greater football teams, but none has had more courage or has put forth its best efforts in the face of greater odds than the one which represented Lock Haven in the season of 1939.

With Walter Levine, a former Lock Haven High grid star, to guide them, the Lock Haven High's "Bobcats" fought their way through another formidable schedule and brought the season to a close with four wins and six defeats. Meeting some of the best teams in Central Pennsylvania, the team carried the purple and white to a successful season. We lift our hats to both the team and the coaching staff.

Basketball

CHESTER B. VIECHNICKI, Coach

The basketball season this year, in my mind, was quite successful. Not from the standpoint of the number of games won but from the standpoint of co-operation, sportsmanship, and the experience learned by the squad.

The seniors of the squad should be given a great deal of credit for the wonderful co-operation they showed by voluntarily dropping out and making room for the underclassmen in order to provide for the coming few years. It was a wonderful gesture on their part.

The team learned the taste of defeat and how to take it. Also they showed wonderful sportsmanship in taking it.

We are looking forward to a successful coming season.

Wrestling has risen in one year to one of the main sports at L. H. H. S. The team met and defeated teams with many years' experience and lost only two out of nine meets. Coach J. Allen Miller deserves the praise of the school for his fine work of whipping the team into such fine shape. The team also deserves lots of credit.

Edward Draucker won the Draucker Cup awarded to the wrestler with the most points. To Robert Foye goes the praise of the school for winning the district title in his class.

Rounding out its ninth season, the Tumbling team, capably coached by Mr. Viechnicki, has shown excellent form and ability. The team was composed of fifteen boys of which only three are Seniors. This leaves a wonderful nucleus for the coming year. The tumbling team deserves a lot of credit.

Track

Fifty-nine boys reported for track this year, the largest number since champions were produced at Lock Haven High on a mass scale. If such interest continues the championships will soon be returning to the old Alma Mater.

Five meets are entered this year and a fine showing is expected. Every event is well taken care of and after a little practice and polishing the Track Team will go places and do things. Coach Wayne Hoy is assisted this spring by Harris Reynolds of the Junior High faculty. With such capable men to lead them the team will soon make itself known.

In the fall of 1938, Lock Haven High School introduced its first organized and uniformed cheerleaders to the public.

This group of students worked very hard, from the very first day of school. Their main job was to raise enthusiasm among the students for the football season. Not only did they get the enthusiasm aroused in the students, but also in the adults.

During the 1938 football season, enthusiasm was higher than it has ever been. Through thick and thin the students followed their team. Do you think the enthusiasm would have been quite as high if it had not been for the cheerleaders?

If you think these cheerleaders worked hard during football season, they had to work three times as hard during basketball and wrestling season.

Spirited meetings were sponsored in the gymnasium on special occasions. The squad also appeared many times in Chapel.

To prepare for future years the squad has taken on the responsibility of training teams from seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

Girls' Basketball

Under the supervision of the new gym instructress, Miss Leathers, the girls had a successful basketball season. However, the schedule of games was not completed, and thus no one team could claim the championship. We might add that the high scoring team was that of Margaret Anne Thomas, with Anamary Nihart's team as runner-up.

Class Will

We, the Lock Haven Senior Class of 1939 A. D. (After Death), do hereby draw up this last will and testament being the last mortal act of aforesaid decrepit body. May the provisions of this humble parchment survive the wear and tear of time as we hope the aforesaid Senior Class will. If perchance the provisions of this will are not carried out we leave to Lil Simcox (after strenuous reducing) the job of coming back and haunting all those skeptics.

Article I

Sincere thanks and appreciation go to the Board of Education for permitting this class of geniuses to reside the past three years in such a fine building as Lock Haven's Senior High School.

Article II

To the moth-eaten Junior Class we leave those respected badges of position and authority, those places to "Parkyakarkus"—our seats in chapel.

Article III

To those behind us, we, the future captains of industry, etc., send greetings and the following advice from the bottom of our hearts and the depths of our shallow knowledge:

Always look wise and intelligent—it pays. Howard Casselberry.
Time marches on. It's not so bad, there are only 8½ months. James Hubler.
Kibitzing's all right. It's not what you do, it's the way you do it. George Kinmouth.

Article IV

To Rex Ignatius Hoch, we leave a time clock so as to be able to time Mr. Harris' late Seniors.
To the Faculty, we leave nothing except our much censored sense of humor.
To Martharus Georgia, we bequeath a Boston Bull Terrier to track down "cutters."
Also a private detective to find all erasers on Janice Stratton's typing papers.

Article V

To the individual students we leave the following:

A girl friend for Jim Thompson.
We leave Walter Nixon's lady friends to Eddie Draucker.
We leave LeRoy Keeler's Boy Scouts to Albert Poremsky.
We leave Fred Tate's ability never to grow up to William Bickford.
To Frances Bodle, we leave Lois Heckman's invaluable itinerary.
To Dan Stanley, we leave Clayton Rickard's manners.
The vacancy on Miss Gillespie's Gestapo, created by the graduation of Gertrude Hill, we leave to whoever wants it.
Snapdragons are left for Eddie Henry when he cracks up what he thinks is his flying machine.
To Evelyn Kline, we leave Betty Swartz's personality.
To Hubert Schriner, we leave Harry Spott's dancing ability.
To some Junior, Lewis Rathgeber's ability to type.
To the oncoming Commercial Seniors, we leave our ample instructor, Miss Suiter.
To the Juniors, we leave "Mickey," our mascot.
To Opal Myers, we leave Kate Draucker's sense of humor.
To Mr. Hoch, we leave best wishes in getting a new watch chain.
To three male members of the Faculty, we leave enough money to buy new hats.
To Bob Boyer, we leave Fred Weaver's ability to tell fish stories.
To Kay Huff, we leave Betty Weaver's ability to get around.
To Audrey Pyle, we leave Jane Kane's flashing smile.
To Mr. Hoch, we leave daisies for his flower bed.

Witnesses:

No Third Term for Lewie

Lewis Rathgeber says he will not run for a third term. No further statement is available for the press.

Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

Lewis Gibb, president of the Fourth National Bank, is celebrating the tenth anniversary of his marriage. His wife is the former Betty Shadle.

Doctor Here to Speak

Doctor Thelma Howenstine is here to speak in the annual High School Commencement on "The Chances a Woman Has of Being a Doctor." Dr. Howenstine is quite an authority on this subject as she was confronted with the same problems in her preparation for medicine as many of the girls graduating this year will be.

Olmstead Gets Contract

Dale Olmstead, New York playwright, last evening signed with The Gauntt Motion Picture Corporation to write for their new series of third dimensional color films. Mr. Olmstead has written numerous Broadway successes, including "Who Put the Ink in Willie's Shoes" and "Foo."

Principal Addresses Reunion

Mr. Irvine Meyer, Principal of the Lock Haven High School, was the chief speaker of last evening's twentieth annual reunion of the class of '39. He spoke on "Our Ambitions of Twenty Years Ago and Their Actuality." In this stirring speech, Mr. Meyer brought back many memories of the long gone past. Other speakers of the evening were Mrs. R. Laubach (former Helen Bowes), James Mapes, the Bechdel sisters, Clair Bowmaster, Lawrence Folk and Richard Cox. Refreshments were furnished by Betty Bolopue, Inc., caterer. Betty Bingaman, airplane manufacturer, provided transportation for the members who were out of town.

Grange President Elected

When a deadlock resulted in the election of a president for the local grange, William Brown, one of the candidates, calmly shot his opponent, Richard Fox, thereby deciding the election. Joe Swope will act as president until after the trial.

Flyers Return

Jack Seltzer and James Schrock, the flyers who flew a Bingaman "Pup" around the world two weeks ago, returned home yesterday with a heroes' ovation. Mayor Charles Peters spoke.

Gen. Comes to Town

Gen. Josephine Grande, of the Salvation Army, will speak in the local Citadel Sunday on "The Effect of High School on Our Youth."

Scientist Discovers Element

F. Jamison, the biochemist, proudly announces a new element which he shall name Cummings in honor of his H. S. science teacher.

Pro-Football Swap

The Tigers, managed by William Grugan, are exchanging Jack Bressler for Franklin Cryder, of Hazzard's Lions. This is the third time these two have been exchanged for each other by L. H. pro-football teams.

Mayor Bars Woolrich's O. T. V.

Mayor Fount Brown, of Woolrich, today proclaimed that the Police Department (One Mike Rich) would arrest any out of town person entering the city after nine o'clock.

Opera Season Closes

With the late closing of the opera season this year we summarize this year's innovations.

This was the first year for numerous seasons that American opera was premiered.

The chief opera of the year was "Rain," by Caroline Smith.

The cast was:

John ..... Rocco Verelli
Mary ..... Lois Brown
The General ..... William Dietz

Among the old favorites was "Louise."

Louise ..... Dorothy Gravina
Julien ..... Walter Nixon
Mother ..... Isabel Myers
Father ..... Doris Shafer

At the Lock Haven Opera House these were presented.

Ralph Sabatino, manager.

Radio and Television

When Alfred Brion's Blue Sox play ball with Mark Eiseman's Kangaroos on Friday you will see every play through box 47, NTC, and your local television station.

Programs Tonight:

7:00—Waltz time, Faye Baney and her all-girl orchestra. Soloists — Ethel Kline and Warren Hager.

8:00—Great Plays. Pauline Koch presents "Old Folks," by Alice Lindsay. Betty Huey, Agnella Innocent, and Edwin Kammerer make up the cast.

9:00—Senator John Walker speaks on "The Champagne Act."

10:00—Strange and Mysterious—Jay Frazier, with Gerry Chapman's Orchestra.

11:00—Ghost Stories. Cast: Perry Berry, William Bitner, and Ruth Clark.

AROUND TOWN

By Walter Squinchell

What well known newspaper publisher is reported pfft with his wife, a surgeon's daughter?

J. Hubler, well known cafe singer, is rumored about to start for New York and an audition with Major Bowes' (Evelyn) Amateur Hour.

A stenographer-boss elopement was the talk of the town last night when Mr. H. Clausen, of Clausen, Packer, and Frazier, married Miss Jane Kane, his stenog.

Orchids to Miss Mary Cree of television for her super performance last night with Fred Tate in Ben Mancini's "Life of Shakespeare."

We hear Miss Kathryn Draucker, of the concert stage, is about to stage a run-out on her football hero (?) in favor of Bruce Kreidler, the piccolo player in Miss Marjorie Dick's Symphony orchestra.

Current Meetings

The Society for the prevention of cruelty to undernourished goldfish had its regular meeting last night. The chairman was Betty Richey and sergeant-at-arms, Emma Robinson. As usual, nothing was decided.

The W. C. T. U. had no meeting this week. The president is Adeline Zinnella, and Helen Ferer, treasurer.

LITERARY

The March of Time

In 1934 we had started our career
In the Junior High School, and the seventh year;
We worked, and we slaved
With one thought in mind,
To get through school quickly
In the least amount of time.

1935 saw us in grade eight,
Still working and slaving
And still in the faith
That when it was over we would be glad,
And not, as some say "terribly sad."

1936 we had just begun,
For in the ninth year, you're only Freshman
Nevertheless one year more
Was added to that long, long score.

1937 found something new,
We were out of the old building and into the new.

Three more years yet to go.
Do you think we will make it?
Few people know.

1938 Juniors at last!
Now time seems to be traveling terribly fast.
It doesn't seem possible that in two more years,
Work will be done, and an end to our fears.

1939 now we are Seniors!
At long last the goal;
A great many names have gone from the roll.
Many can't believe us, it seems foolish to say—
That somehow we're dreading that oncoming day,
The 14th of June, when we are sent on our way.
So to those behind us,
We say and we mean,
It isn't half as bad as it may seem.

MARY CREE.

Graduation

This June a chapter in our life closes. We shall depart from these quiet class rooms and friendly faces to enter the world of men and women. The knowledge that we have acquired in school and the guidance of our teachers will make the transition easier. For the past twelve years they have devoted themselves to the task of preparing us for our part that we must take in life. Now, it is up to us. We must not fail and disappoint the hopes of our parents and teachers. We must practice the qualities of honesty, and perseverance that our teachers have taught us. We must not be afraid of hard work and of little set-backs. We must share in the responsibilities of citizenship and hope by our efforts to make this world a happier and better place to leave for those who will come after us.

ADELINE ZANELLA.

A Tribute to the Debaters

No man can escape thinking. At times he must face questions which it is vital to his happiness or success and which requires clear thinking. At times, too, it will be essential to his own welfare or that of those dear to him to be able to present the result of his clear and intelligent thinking. Of all the ways of developing literary talent and ability to express oneself with clarity, and force, one of the most valuable is debating.

The class of 1939 extends to you, her debators, a most hearty and admiring recognition of your achievements during the year.

MARGARET ANNE THOMAS.

Why Is It?

Why is it that we are always reaching for something that is not within our grasp? When but a small babe in arms we start our seemingly endless career of trying to grasp things out of our present reach.

At this very early stage of life we try to grasp things which cannot be captured by such a small person. By some unknown force or means we set as our objective the seemingly impossible.

Finally, we grow in both wisdom and stature, which enables us to fulfill our objective.

We go through life doing this very same thing. We set some "objective," or perhaps you may call it an "ideal" as "your goal in life," and after reaching this "ideal" or whatever you call it, we set a newer and higher one which we try to reach.

This seems to be an endless task but what would life be without it? Do you know? Does anyone? The answer must lie with God alone.

BETTY BINGAMAN.

A Recipe for a Good Senior

1 Cup of education,
1 Tablespoon of fun;
1 Teaspoon of explanation;
½ Cup of lesson shortening,
And the procedure has begun.
You cream the fun and education,
And then you add the explanation;
Next will come the lesson shortening,
The day before the test our answer cramming;
You bake well in the cup of knowledge,
Until ready to go to college,
Next will come the High School degree,
And there's the Senior Recipe.

LILY LINEBAUGH.

Our Faculty

Strong and majestic in its might
Our faculty stands supreme
A host all honored in our sight
To crown ambition's dream.

No sordid aim dwells in their mind
No bandful hope reveals their power.
But influence, power and joy we find
To cheer the passing hour.

Yea, we would place a tribute sweet
For the good that each has done,
And lay all glory at their feet
As emblems of the race we've won.

Where to Now?

We must wonder at this time,
  Just where we'll go from here;
Perhaps in ten or twenty years
  We'll know 'cause we'll be there.

We've come to school for twelve long years
  To try to train our minds;
And now we venture forth to see
  If we really used that time.

As we go forth into this life,
  We find it hard to choose;
For many fields are opened to us,
  At which we could not lose.

Wouldn't it be nice to know,
  Each thing that we should do;
What has fate stored up for us?
  Oh! how we wish we knew.

HOWARD CASSELBERRY.

My Tree

My tree is a beautiful tree;
So graceful green and tall.

My tree is a changeable tree;
From Spring through Summer to Fall.

In a whispering summer breeze,
She silently nods her head;

In Autumn she sheds her beautiful leaves,
All gold and yellow and red.

In Winter she bows to the wintry blasts,
And mourns her woeful song.

My tree is a tree that does not last,
Through all the struggle and strife,

Because my once so beautiful tree
Is the tree of human life.

MAZIE BYROL.

Memories

The memories of our high school days
Will remain with us always:
The fun we had while together,
Will be forgotten never.

Our thanks to the teachers who helped us along,
Who tried to teach us right from wrong:
May their teachings linger on,
When our high school days are gone.

Our school friends will forever be
The dearest to our memory;
And though we shall travel different ways,
We will keep the thoughts of yesterdays.

JULIA HALL.

Peace

A full moon,
Swift floating clouds,
The white sand of the beach,
Waves calmly rolling on the shore,
The silent swaying of palm trees——
Peace.

MAZIE BYROL.

GOSSIP

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of all the gossip, far and near,
Down the alley and over the fence,
Here's some fun if you're not too dense.

To figure them out will take some time,
For some are in prose and some in rhyme,
These quips were made in a friendly way,
Don't take offense—they're just hearsay.

Advice to Girls

Never give biological students a date; they enjoy cutting up.
The football man is all right; they'll tackle anything.
Watch out for the baseball man; he hits and runs.
The tennis player is harmless; but he enjoys a racket.
You can depend on the swimmer; he will dive in and do his best.
Be careful of the Dramatic Club man; he usually has a couple of good lines.
Always let a member of the band talk about himself; he likes to blow his own horn.

Lois Heckman (in restaurant): "Why don't you shoo your flies?"

Chef: "Well, you see it's so hot today I thought I would just let them run around barefooted."

Judge: "Guilty or not guilty?"
Hubert Hanna: "Not guilty, sir."
Judge: "Have you ever been in jail?"
Hubert Hanna: "No sir; I never stole nothing before."

Looking up at her boy friend while riding one evening, Margaret Quiggle inquired sweetly: "Can you drive with one hand?"

George replied with enthusiasm: "I'll say I can!"

Margaret: "Well then, please have an apple."

A customer sat down at a table at a smart restaurant and tied his napkin around his neck. The manager, scandalized, called a boy and said to him: "Try to make him understand as tactfully as possible that that's not done."

Boy (seriously to customer): "Shave or haircut, sir?"

Political Candidate: "Will you join our party?"

Wanda Bitner: "Certainly. When is it?"

They were discussing dogs, and the tales were becoming "pretty tall" when one of the group took the lead.

"Smith," he said, "had a most intelligent retriever. One night Smith's house caught on fire. All was instant confusion. Old Smith and his wife flew for the children, and bundled out with them in quick order.

"Alas, one of them had been left behind. But up jumped the dog, rushed into the house, and soon reappeared with the missing child. Everyone was saved, but Rover dashed through the flames again.

"What did the dog want? No one knew. Presently the noble animal reappeared, scorched and burned, with—what do you think?"

"Give it up," cried the eager listeners.

"With the fire insurance policy, wrapped in a damp towel, gentlemen."

A young city girl was vacationing in the country and became friendly with a farmer boy. One evening as they were strolling across a pasture they saw a cow and calf rubbing noses in the accepted bovine fashion.

"Ah," said the farmer boy, "that sight makes me want to do the same."

"Well, go ahead," said the girl, "It's your cow."

Judge: "You admit you drove over this man with a loaded truck?"

James Mapes: "Yes, your honor."

Judge: "And what have you to say in your defense?"

James Mapes: "I did not know it was loaded."
